SKILLS AND STRENGTHS

I have over eight years of experience as a developmental and copy editor. I have managed the day-to-day operations of Web sites and supervised freelance and full-time writers and editors. I am comfortable using a variety of Web publishing technologies. I can work independently and collaborate with others on larger projects. I keep abreast of issues that are important to the developer, system administrator, and IT manager communities. I pride myself on my ability to improve an author's writing while keeping his or her voice intact.
